FLAG FACT:

The U.S. flag may be seen as the red, white, and blue, or the stars and stripes and indeed it is; however, it represents much more -- something important we call freedom. As our flag has led us into battle, it has inspired men and women to fight for the freedoms guaranteed in our nations documents from its early birth. In fact, more than one million Americans have died defending the freedoms our flag represents.

RELIEVE THE STRESS FACTOR

FIND REST, RELAXATION, & RECREATION

Picture yourself in a hammock resting casually on a Sunday afternoon. With each sway, a problem flees away. Soon there is not a care in the world to bother you, or if there is it has been put on the back burner for just a little while. You have just created a sense of calm—one of life's antidotes to stress.

In our busy and hectic world we all need a little time for rest. Although resting in a hammock on a sunny, breezy ocean beach surrounded by swaying palms sounds like one of the best ways to relax, there are many other opportunities for rest, relaxation, and recreation. For example, most cities have parks that provide picnic areas for roasting hot dogs or playgrounds for playing baseball and basketball or climbing monkey bars. Some have hiking trails where one can enjoy the beauty of nature that is both pleasant to the eye and peaceful to the mind.

Babbling brooks are great for a barefoot refresher. Blue lakes, flowing rivers, and rippling coastlines have places to delight in boating, waterskiing, swimming, canoeing, and fishing. A quiet walk along the beach listening to the waves slap the shoreline

BENEFITS OF REST

Feel like you're always on the go, never having the time to rest or relax? You are not alone. Many feel that way, but when you look at all the benefits of rest, you may want to make some time even if you have to schedule it. Rest relieves stress promoting positive physical effects, such as, lowering blood pressure and heartbeat, minimizing the risk of heart problems. It relieves headaches, tense muscles, and back pain, and alleviates the probabilities of ulcers and cold sores. Also, rest gives more relaxed and deeper breathing benefiting the lungs. By taking time to rest, you can gain mental clarity, giving a proper perspective to problems. By far, rest improves the quality of life both mentally and physically.

ENJOYING TIME TOGETHER MAY REQUIRE SPECIAL APPOINTMENTS

Finding time to spend with your family can seem like an impossible task, but it is a great way to enhance relationships. Most will discover that it is the minutes and hours you share that draws families together.

Have you had a Sunday dinner with conversation, fun, and laughter lately? As you cease from labors, those gatherings bring great opportunities to truly value the special characteristics of those present and enjoy the bubbling personalities of each one.

Children even learn to listen to those older and somehow begin realizing that age really does bring wisdom. Top this

Knit your family together and find real pleasure by simply setting aside time for a meal together around the table not the television. I would say that it is time well spent and an investment into your families future success.
